Zonta Club contest is painting the town yellow

Published on Mar 02, 2007

If you think you're seeing yellow these days, you are -- and you should be voting on it, too.

The Zonta Club of Oakville is hosting a Paint the Town Yellow window display contest in support of International Women's Day, which is March 8.

Participating merchants of downtown Oakville, Kerr Street and Bronte Village are displaying their creativity, community spirit and International Women's Day support with a splash of yellow.

The contest began Feb. 26 and continues through March 8.

Winners will be presented with a plaque at the Zonta Classic Golf Tournament Reception and Dinner being held at Lionhead Golf Club on May 23.

View the window displays and then cast your vote at www.zontaoakville.com and click on the Paint the Town Yellow icon.

Participating business in downtown Oakville include: Avalon Fine Jewellery; Barbette 2; Bernard Callebaut; Charles Austin Shoes; Chez Louise; David Finlay; Harrison's; Imperial Rug Gallery; Julia's; Lady Sophia Boutique; Lululemon; Majenta Home Furnishings; Murrion's CabineTree; Morrison House; Roasted Apples; Scotia Bank; Swiss Interiors; Win Henstock Gallery and Zoran Designs.

In Bronte Village, view yellow window displays at CJ's Café and Gallery Rufus.

In Kerr Village, view the displays at Albert One's Carpets; DK Accounting; Moonshine Café and Photosynthesis.
